Re: Revised Accreditation Rule 30 and New Accreditation Rules 42 and 43

ANAB Accreditation Rule 30, Accreditation Program for Occupational Health and Safety Management Systems, has been revised to include scoping. Implementation of the new version is effective one year from today on 2012/07/01.

ANAB Accreditation Rule 42, Accreditation Program for ISO 9001 Quality Management Systems, has been published and it includes scoping. Implementation is effective one year from today on 2012/07/01.

ANAB Accreditation Rule 43, Accreditation Program for ISO 14001 Environmental Management Systems, has been published and it includes scoping. Implementation of is effective one year from today on 2012/07/01.

The implementation deadline is one year from the date of publication, with the expectation that accreditation certificates will be revised for each CB upon completion of the annual office assessment that will be conducted during the next 12 months. During the next office assessment, the EATL will be determining the scopes that apply a CB based on the approved declaration of competence along with the results of the office assessment.
